

APPLICATION

NSF-Funded 2009 GCAT DNA Microarray Workshop
For Faculty Teaching Undergraduates
Especially Minority-Serving Institutions (MSIs)
July 5 – 11, 2009 at Morehouse College, Atlanta, GA

Name _____ Gender _____

Institution _____ Department _____

Shipping Address _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Highest Degree _____ Area of Specialization _____

Current courses taught _____

Research interests, if any _____

I prefer workshop #1 (6 – 10) _____ I prefer workshop #2 (7 – 11) _____

How do you plan on using DNA microarrays in your teaching and/or research?

Have you applied to a GCAT workshop and not been accepted? _____ If so, what year _____

Do you have prior experience with DNA microarrays? _____

If yes, please explain:

Percent AFRICAN AMERICAN Students at your school _____

Percent HISPANIC Students at your school _____

Percent NATIVE AMERICAN Students at your school _____

Percent PACIFIC ISLANDER Students at your school _____

Your Ethnicity (optional) _____

SEND APPLICATIONS TO: Dr. Edison R. Fowlks, Professor, Department of Biological Sciences, 101 DuPont Hall, Hampton University Hampton, VA 23668 or email to DNAMICROARRAY@HAMPTONU.EDU or to macampbell@davidson.edu

APPLICATION RECEIPT DUE DATE: FEBRUARY 13, 2009.

Neither NSF nor GCAT uses quotas for any workshop. We encourage all faculty to apply but we will emphasize the potential impact for faculty who teach at MSIs, or those faculty members who are members of underrepresented groups.